Annual Performance Planning and Review Report Fiscal Year 2008-2009

(Submitted to the Director of Civil Service and the Civil Service Commission on December 9, 2009)

In accordance with Civil Service Rule 10.12 (c), state agencies are required to submit an annual Performance Planning and Review (PPR) report to the Director of Civil Service. The final annual report for fiscal year 2008-2009 is attached to this memo.

The data is organized so that columns one and two indicate the name of the agency. The reports are as follows:

First Report - Alphabetical Order by Agency

This report lists all reporting agencies by major department, in alphabetical order. The third column indicates the total number of employees for whom ratings were reported by the agency. The fourth column indicates the percentage of employees who were Un-Rated for fiscal year 2008-2009. The fifth and sixth columns indicate the percentage of employees who were Un-Rated for the two prior fiscal years—2006-2007 and 2007-2008.

Second Report - Descending Order by Un-Rated Rate

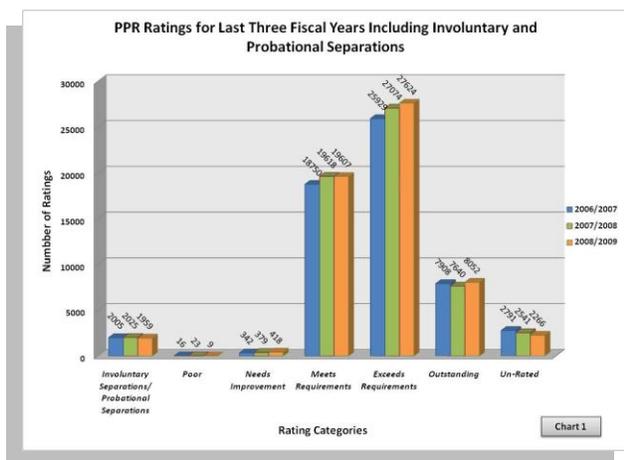

The second report sorts the reporting agencies in descending order according to the percentage of employees who were not rated for fiscal year 2008-2009. Agencies appearing at the top of the list have the highest Un-Rated rates, starting at 100% Un-Rated for the Louisiana Gaming Control Board.

The agencies appearing near the end of the list, with 0.00% Un-Rated, reported that they rated all their employees during this period. When viewing the Un-Rated rates for each agency, please also note the number of ratings reported per agency, which appears in the third column, “Total Ratings Reported 08-09.” As has been discussed in past years, although we would be concerned by a high Un-Rated rate at a small agency, such as a board or commission, even if there were only a handful of classified employees, we are more alarmed by a lower Un-Rated rate of 15-30 percent at an agency having a significantly greater number of employees—50 or more. In the Program Assistance Division, we have concluded that the larger the agency, the greater the impact of a high Un-Rated rate. It is our experience that a lack of a strong performance management program adversely impacts the morale of employees, productivity, and business operations and mission of the agency.

As in the first report, the fifth and sixth columns provide the percentage of Un-Rated employees for the previous two fiscal years.

Chart 1 -- PPR Ratings for Last 3 Fiscal Years Including Involuntary/Probational Separations

Chart 1 indicates the actual numbers of PPR Ratings reported for each of the past three fiscal years. This chart presents the number of ratings in each of the rating categories. Additionally, in the first column, the report provides the number of Involuntary Separations/Probational Separations, which includes those employees who were separated from probation, resigned to avoid dismissal, or were dismissed. It is reasonable to assume that these dismissed employees were ones who most likely did receive, or would have received, ratings of Poor or Needs Improvement. (It is important to note that this number does not include those employees who were laid off or those who chose to retire.)

(See Appendix A)

Chart 2 -- PPR Ratings for Last 3 Fiscal Years by Percentages

Chart 2 shows the percentage of ratings in each category over a three-year period.

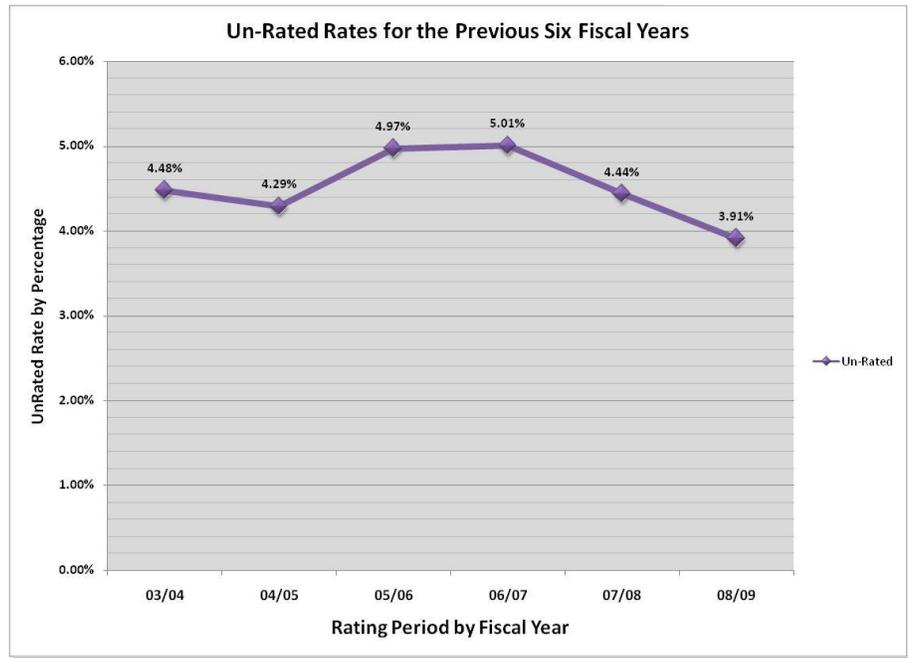

Chart 3 -- Meets Requirements vs. Less Than Meets Requirements

This chart represents the percentage of employees whose performance was less than “Meets Requirements” versus those whose performance was deemed to be “Meets Requirements” or higher. The percentage of employees whose performance was less than “Meets Requirements” includes those who were actually rated “Poor” or “Needs Improvement,” as well as those who were separated while on probation or involuntarily, which we have concluded are employees who either did receive, or would have likely received, ratings of less than “Meets Requirements” if they had remained in state service. The percentage of Un-Rated employees is not shown in this chart. (See Appendix C)

Decrease in Statewide Un-Rated Rate in FY 08/09

For Fiscal Year 2008-2009, there was a slight decrease in the statewide percentage of Un-Rated employees of over half of one percent, although there were 701 more state workers this fiscal year to rate than last fiscal year. Agencies reported PPR ratings for 57,976 classified employees in fiscal year 2008-2009, and the overall Un-Rated rate was 3.91%, down from last fiscal year's rate of 4.44%. Specifically, the un-rated rates have declined over the last two years, as indicated in Chart 4 illustrated here. (Also, see Appendix D.) The highest rate reached 5.01% in fiscal year 2006-2007.

NOTE: Statewide grand totals are presented at the bottom of each of the columns, on page 7.

Agencies Not Reporting

Included in this annual report is a list of agencies which did not report. There was a significant increase in the number of agencies which did not report PPR data to Civil Service, and this can possibly be attributed to the change in the method by which Civil Service requested and collected the data for this fiscal year. The change was necessitated by the issuance of House Concurrent Resolution Number 98 (HCR 98) and the Department of Civil Service developed a new statewide annual reporting system which required information be submitted to Civil Service in an electronic format. Agencies were also required to submit pay data relative to the PPR system, and the timeframe to collect the data for submission to the appropriate legislative committees was restrictive. The number of employees for which rating information was not submitted totals 2,742. (See Appendix E)
